March 22, 1985

To: Board of Health

Subject: Clarification of PCB Inventory

Origin: Board of Health, March 19, 1985 (c34h1th85045:67)

Comments:

At its meeting on March 19, 1985, the Board of Health had before it copy of a communication (February 14, 1985) addressed to the Medical Officer of Health forwarding a copy of the Ministry's PCB Waste Site Inventory for Metropolitan Toronto, dated December 1984.

The Board decided to request the Medical Officer of Health to clarify the abbreviations and designations in the computer printout listing of PCB material as provided by the Ministry of the Environment. The following comments should clarify the report.

A. The pages are divided into six columns and reading from left to right these are:

1. Serial # - this merely designates the order in which the records appear on the computer file.

2. This indicates the name and head office address of the company owning or responsible for the wastes.

3. This indicates the address at which the material is or was stored.

4. This column is designated for solid wastes and solid materials which were used in the clean-up of spills.

5. This column indicates amounts of liquid wastes which are or were stored at the premises.

6. This column indicates a cross-reference number which would list the current location of PCB bearing material which had been removed from the site indicated in column #3. You will note that in cases where such a cross-reference appears, columns 4 and 5 will read "nil" indicating that the material has been removed. Elaboration of specific cross-references is available from the Ministry of the Environment upon request. I can report at this time however, that much of the removed material was taken to Alberta. This was done prior to restraints upon moving the material.

B. ABBREVIATION CODE EXPLANATION

D - denotes drum (usually 45 gallon type)

S - denotes solid material

C - denotes capacitor (electrical device)

T - denotes transformer (electrical device)

L - denotes litre (measure of volume)

Recommendation:

That the Board of Health receive the foregoing for information.

A. S. Macpherson, M.D., M.Sc.,
Medical Officer of Health.
